

Margreet Ploeg graduated from Utrecht University in 2007 and started working as veterinarian in two different clinics. In 2009 she started her specialisation and residency Veterinary Pathology at the Utrecht University, The Netherlands. She passed her European Veterinary Pathology exams in 2014 and since then she works as a veterinary pathologist (Dipl. ECVP). In the meantime she started her PhD in 2011 on “Aortic Ruptures in Friesian horses” in a joint cooperation between the Utrecht University, The Netherlands, The Ghent University, Belgium, Wolvega Equine Hospital, The Netherlands, Wageningen University, The Netherlands and The Dutch Royal Friesian Studbook.